WAS THE YEAR IN WHICH WE ORIGINATED COTTON GARDEN HOSE,

Today our Black Line is known the world over to the standard. We were the first to put a colored line in cotton hose. Why? Because others were trying to inditate our roods, compelling us to protect ourselves. Today other manufacturers are putting colored threads in cotton hose, but do not be chanted; insist on a Black Line. Your dealer may tell you others are as good, because he can make more money out of them. Buy early hose with this plak wrapper and a single pure BlackLine.

Had it not been for the unfavorable weather a lawn party would have been given on the tenuis grounds of the Hyatts-ville Athletic Club.

The Orient Athletic Club Tournament.
The principal events of the tournament being held on the Orient's courts were played off last evening. A very fine exhibition was given in the final gentlemen singles, Mr. Gee vs. Mr. Geobegan. Some brilliant plays were made on the vert of beth above the vert of beth ab Geobegan. Some brilliant plays were made on the part of both players. After a stubborn land states.

Dr. Alfred H. Wells and several friends from contests in both ladies and gentlemen finals were witnessed by a large and an interested crowd and the contestants were loudly applanded by their friends. The score was as follows: Mr. Geohegan beat Mr. Geo. 6-1, 8-6, 8-6-2, 7-5, thus winning first place, Mr. Geoheing second. Miss Doyle beat Miss Ward, 2-6, 9-7, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1, winning first place, Miss Ward, 2-6, 9-7, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1, winning first place, Miss Ward, 2-6, 8-7, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1, winning first place, Miss Ward being second.

THE NEWS AT HYATTSVILLE. The Tux Controversy and the Meeting To-night-Other Events of Interest. Correspondence of The Evening Star.

HYATTSVILLE, Mp., July 21, 1892. The single tax opponents are determined not to attend the public meeting of the town commissioners which will be held this evening. Mr. Thomas H. Latimer, one of the commissioners, who voted against the adoption of the new system, when asked if he intended to attend the meeting replied that he would certainly not be present, as he did not consider it a commis-Yesterday's game at National Park with the sioners' meeting, but a public gathering, and that he thought that the board had no right to some apparently impossible catches, ended the agony by a single to left center in the eleventh inning, and won the game for the visitors.

Umpire Mitchell officiated again and showed a commendable degree of firmness, finally or dering Comiskey from the game for making a most silly exhibition of himself. No player has such a privilege, and the sooner President Young's thrutenants instruct the players to that effect the more satisfied the patrons of the game will be. Keep it up, Mr. Mitchell; President Young is with you.

"Bug" Holliday should have been sent to the bench for his rowdy manner of disputing the umpire's decision on his out at first. Holliday was right in saving that he should have been declared safe, but he knows very well that an umpire cannot reverse a base decision on the testimony of a player and that player the one directly interested. Then what was the sense of his kicking? He should have been fined heavily and then set on the bench hard enough to make his teeth rattle. These senseless questionings of decisions on points of judgment (not on interpretations of rules) do more to hurt base ball attendance than everything else, and Mr. Young is to be commended for trying to stop them.

Some PERTINENT FIGURES.

Our new players do not seem to be in a hurry to join the Senatorial ranks, which strengthens the popular opposition to their coming here. Here are a few figures which may be studied with interest by the management:

they were equally earnest the result was a hot game. The few errors were costly, as only one run was earned. Long carried off honors both in fielding and batting. Score, 3 to 2.

Anson secured his first victory of the second series by defeating the New Yorks yesterday. Both teams played a very even game up to the eighth inning, when a single and a home run scored two runs for the visitors and gave them the game. Score, 8 to 6.

Preffer and his Kentuckians took yesterday's game from the Brooklyns without very much trouble. Hart, usually very effective, was easy for the visitors, who batted him safely many times. The Brooklyns also failed to play their usual game in the field. Score, 6 to 8.
